

CHAMPAGNE
MAX SUTAIN & CO.
EXTRA DRY
Sole Agents
MOORE & TUDOR
163—MAIPU—163

No. 8603
PARRY & Cia.

CERVEZA NEGRA
(Ante Chumbo)
En cajas de 24 botellas. Union recomendada por los sus calidades fortificantes y sabor restaurante.

ANGOSTURA BITTERS
de Dr. J. G. B. Slegert & hijos
Union

TEES FINOS: "La Patria," "Erin-go-Bragh," "La Por-tola," "La Criolla," "La Argentina."

(Nuestros marcos registradas)

TABACO "PIONEER"
(datos de una libreria)

AZUL EN PANCITOS DE COLMAN
MOSTAZA DE COLMAN
VELAS FINAS: "Mona."

Champagna "Eugene Clioquet"

DULCES DE KELLER
MERMELEDA DE KELLER

N.B.V.O.

BEST SQUARE WHISKY
In square bottles

WOLFE'S AROMATIC SCHNAPPS
In square bottles

FINE MILD GENEVA
"Mona" Brand, in square
Crystal Bottles.

3 GOOD SQUARE DRINKS
ASK FOR THEM.

PARRY and Co.
871 BALCARNE

Healthiest, Purest and Best!

THE NATIONAL BEVERAGE

HESPERIDINA
(Established 25 years.)

TWENTY-NINE PRIZES FROM EUROPEAN AMERICAN
EXHIBITIONS

M. S. BAGLEY & Co.
for their

"TRES COSAS BUENAS"

Hesperidina,
Biscuits and Marmalade

BOOTS & SHOES

WINTER WEAR

Manufactured by Clarke & Sons, Kilmarnock,

JAMES SMART

Sole agent
556 CALLE PIEDAD

CHAMPAGNE--ERNEST IRROY

VINTAGE 1884
EXTRA DRY

Sole representative for the Argentine Republic:

L. F. ORSAI

And sold wholesale and Retail by
MACLEAN & MULVANY
CANGALLO 567

Dr. Petty,
32 Tucuman, Belgrano.

Consultation hours 1 to 3 p.m.
199 feli xp
(agrownthelimiterscash.)

COSTLY GOODS
AT
REDUCED PRICES.

Coalport Dinner and Dessert Sets, Dinner and Dessert Sets,
Wald's fine Cut Crystal Sets,
Bos Relief Sets,
Bos Relief Sets.

Due to the RAILING CRISIS the above SPECIALITIES are offered at COST Price, with a view to tempt those fortunate enough to possess paper money to invest in them.
N.B.—This is at least 25 per cent. under what the same would cost in London or Paris.

Bazaar Inglés
336 FLORIDA 334
BUENOS AYRES.

PURE RAIN WATER
The Automatic Regulator (Killey's patent) separates the foul from the pure rain water.

Pure Water only collected in the Andes.

Sold by the leading Sanitary engineers in Buenos Ayres, and by
"LA DOMICILIARIA,"
SOLE AGENTS,
Gen. Lavalle 571 and 573.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.

A. Murray,

English Tailor, wishes to inform his Clients that he has removed from 1180 Calle Lima to 599 PIEDAD, next, Moja (off), where they can obtain, as formerly, the best of goods, cut and workmanship at the most Moderate Prices.

Piedad 691.

Dr. Hanly,
125 Florida between Piedad and Cangallo.
Consultation, 2 to 4.
Union Telephone 51

QUINTA-HOUSE

TO LET

Within a square of Palermo Park gates, 8 rooms, piano, bath, two kitchens and servant's room, flower and vegetable gardens, room for horse and trap, gas, electric conduits, etc. etc. place—200 ft. x 100 ft.
for sale. Keys at 1031 Malabia street 645 Cuyo.

The Standard

No. 8603
PARRY & Cia.

CERVEZA NEGRA
(Ante Chumbo)
En cajas de 24 botellas. Union
recomendada por los
sus calidades fortificantes y sabor restaurante.

ANGOSTURA BITTERS
de Dr. J. G. B. Slegert & hijos
Union

TEES FINOS: "La Patria,"
"Erin-go-Bragh," "La Por-
tola," "La Criolla," "La
Argentina."

(Nuestros marcos registradas)

TABACO "PIONEER"
(datos de una libreria)

AZUL EN PANCITOS DE COLMAN
MOSTAZA DE COLMAN
VELAS FINAS: "Mona."

Champagna "Eugene Clioquet"

DULCES DE KELLER
MERMELEDA DE KELLER

N.B.V.O.

BEST SQUARE WHISKY
In square bottles

WOLFE'S AROMATIC SCHNAPPS
In square bottles

FINE MILD GENEVA
"Mona" Brand, in square
Crystal Bottles.

3 GOOD SQUARE DRINKS
ASK FOR THEM.

PARRY and Co.
871 BALCARNE

Healthiest, Purest and Best!

THE NATIONAL BEVERAGE

HESPERIDINA
(Established 25 years.)

TWENTY-NINE PRIZES FROM
EUROPEAN AMERICAN
EXHIBITIONS

M. S. BAGLEY & Co.
for their

"TRES COSAS BUENAS"

Hesperidina,
Biscuits and Marmalade

BOOTS & SHOES

WINTER WEAR

Manufactured by
Clarke & Sons, Kilmarnock,

JAMES SMART

Sole agent
556 CALLE PIEDAD

CHAMPAGNE--ERNEST IRROY

VINTAGE 1884
EXTRA DRY

Sole representative for the Argentine Republic:

L. F. ORSAI

And sold wholesale and Retail by
MACLEAN & MULVANY
CANGALLO 567

Dr. Petty,
32 Tucuman, Belgrano.

Consultation hours 1 to 3 p.m.
199 feli xp
(agrownthelimiterscash.)

COSTLY GOODS
AT
REDUCED PRICES.

Coalport Dinner and Dessert Sets,
Dinner and Dessert Sets,
Wald's fine Cut Crystal Sets,
Bos Relief Sets,
Bos Relief Sets.

Due to the RAILING CRISIS the above
SPECIALITIES are offered at COST Price,
with a view to tempt those fortunate enough
to possess paper money to invest in them.
N.B.—This is at least 25 per cent. under what the same would cost in London or Paris.

Bazaar Inglés
336 FLORIDA 334
BUENOS AYRES.

PURE RAIN WATER
The Automatic Regulator (Killey's patent)
separates the foul from the pure rain water.

Pure Water only collected in
the Andes.

Sold by the leading Sanitary engineers
in Buenos Ayres, and by
"LA DOMICILIARIA,"
SOLE AGENTS,
Gen. Lavalle 571 and 573.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.

A. Murray,

English Tailor, wishes to inform his Clients
that he has removed from 1180 Calle Lima
to 599 PIEDAD, next, Moja (off), where
they can obtain, as formerly, the best of
goods, cut and workmanship at the most Moderate Prices.

Piedad 691.

Dr. Hanly,
125 Florida between Piedad and Cangallo.
Consultation, 2 to 4.
Union Telephone 51

QUINTA-HOUSE

TO LET

Within a square of Palermo Park gates, 8 rooms, piano, bath, two kitchens
and servant's room, flower and vegetable
gardens, room for horse and trap, gas, electric
conduits, etc. etc. place—200 ft. x 100 ft.
for sale. Keys at 1031 Malabia street 645 Cuyo.

THE POOR OF BUENOS AYRES.

Carriages and Russian horses are the only things that are not in the hands of the poor.

These brilliant equipages will stretch their hands to the hundreds of starving people who are in the city.

Not only do the poor have no money, but they have no food. The upper classes are totally ignorant of the distress that is in the city.

It is not only the poor who are in distress, but the middle classes are also in a state of poverty.

The poor are in a state of despair, and they are in a state of despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

The poor are in a state of
despair, and they are in a state of
despair.

BUENOS AYRES, SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1891 he stronghold of Balmaceda's troops the land division took train for Lique on the 18th inst. The train was however, anticipated the movement and came up to the station to stop the progress of the revolutionists; these,

though partly surprised, soon rallied and attacked the vanguard with such fury that they carried everything before them and cut through the ranks of the insurrectionists. The explanation of this phenomenon is, the officials informed him—"that anything loose, the public would steal." Mr. Child, dipping into his well-stocked notes of travel, consules you with the fact that there is some difficulty in Chile and on the line from Athens to the Piræus. It is not that the "gauchos" only represents human imperfectibility. Till the world is Teu-
to and a "gaucha" with English basis is universal, the human animal will continue to "celebrate" blunders and loose articles. Mr. Child is naturally impressed with the vastness of Argentine territory and gives us its length and breadth and superficial area in square miles. Like everyone else, he is bored with railway travelling in a country where "the gray sun-burnt plain shows the bare bones of the earth, and the low dunes of yellow earth stretch in all directions as far as the eye can reach. Hour after hour through blinding dust and rain clouds, the train goes on and on, and on as well known—the vultures, the terrores, the inevitable and still more inevitable carriage, just as they were and are likely to be again for another century, have scarcely varied by "groups of box-like huts of burnt brick scattered over the ground and in the vicinity of some human beings telling." This new feature of the Argentine landscape is Mr. Child's opinion on his way to the great Casey station with its stud farm, and with a feeling of relief to the monotony of the landscape he takes a greedy look at the buildings of the station. The train is full of passengers, and the Napoli and arrives at Bahia Blanca—
"a desolate and lonely place." He does not see the mud banks and the crabs.
"As for the estancia, towns villages and the life of the country, we have seen one you have seen all, and all are equally uninteresting. The life has become less fertile in picturesque incidents since the enclosure of the land with wire fences, and the management of the herds much simpler and enables the estancia to dispense with the guard of mounted "gauchos" who are now to be seen only in the vicinity of the station.

On the 18th inst. the train was
however, anticipated the movement and
came up to the station to stop the
progress of the revolutionists; these,
though partly surprised, soon rallied and
attacked the vanguard with such fury
that they carried everything before them
and cut through the ranks of the
insurrectionists. The explanation of this phenomenon is, the officials informed
him—"that anything loose, the public
would steal." Mr. Child, dipping into
his well-stocked notes of travel, con-
sules you with the fact that there is
some difficulty in Chile and on the line
from Athens to the Piræus. It is not
that the "gauchos" only represents human
imperfectibility. Till the world is Teu-
to and a "gaucha" with English basis
is universal, the human animal will continue to "celebrate" blunders and loose
articles. Mr. Child is naturally impressed with the vastness of Argentine
territory and gives us its length and breadth and superficial area in square
miles. Like everyone else, he is bored
with railway travelling in a country
where "the gray sun-burnt plain shows
the bare bones of the earth, and the
low dunes of yellow earth stretch in
all directions as far as the eye can
reach. Hour after hour through blinding
dust and rain clouds, the train goes on
and on, and on as well known—the
vultures, the terrores, the inevitable
and still more inevitable carriage,
just as they were and are likely to
be again for another century, have
scarcely varied by "groups of box-
like huts of burnt brick scattered over
the ground and in the vicinity of some
human beings telling." This new feature of the Argentine landscape is
Mr. Child's opinion on his way to the great Casey station with its stud farm,
and with a feeling of relief to the monotony
of the landscape he takes a greedy look at the buildings of the station. The train is full of passengers, and the Napoli and arrives at Bahia Blanca—
"a desolate and lonely place." He does not see the mud banks and the crabs.
"As for the estancia, towns villages
and the life of the country, we have
seen one you have seen all, and all are equally uninteresting. The life has become less fertile in picturesque incidents since the enclosure of the land
with wire fences, and the management
of the herds much simpler and
enables the estancia to dispense
with the guard of mounted "gauchos"
who are now to be seen only in the vicinity of the station.

On the 18th inst. the train was
however, anticipated the movement and
came up to the station to stop the
progress of the revolutionists; these,
though partly surprised, soon rallied and
attacked the vanguard with such fury
that they carried everything before them
and cut through the ranks of the
insurrectionists. The explanation of this phenomenon is, the officials informed
him—"that anything loose, the public
would steal." Mr. Child, dipping into
his well-stocked notes of travel, con-
sules you with the fact that there is
some difficulty in Chile and on the line
from Athens to the Piræus. It is not
that the "gauchos" only represents human
imperfectibility. Till the world is Teu-
to and a "gaucha" with English basis
is universal, the human animal will continue to "celebrate" blunders and loose
articles. Mr. Child is naturally impressed with the vastness of Argentine
territory and gives us its length and breadth and superficial area in square
miles. Like everyone else, he is bored
with railway travelling in a country
where "the gray sun-burnt plain shows
the bare bones of the earth, and the
low dunes of yellow earth stretch in
all directions as far as the eye can
reach. Hour after hour through blinding
dust and rain clouds, the train goes on
and on, and on as well known—the
vultures, the terrores, the inevitable
and still more inevitable carriage,
just as they were and are likely to
be again for another century, have
scarcely varied by "groups of box-
like huts of burnt brick scattered over
the ground and in the vicinity of some
human beings telling." This new feature of the Argentine landscape is
Mr. Child's opinion on his way to the great Casey station with its stud farm,
and with a feeling of relief to the monotony
of the landscape he takes a greedy look at the buildings of the station. The train is full of passengers, and the Napoli and arrives at Bahia Blanca—
"a desolate and lonely place." He does not see the mud banks and the crabs.
"As for the estancia, towns villages
and the life of the country, we have
seen one you have seen all, and all are equally uninteresting. The life has become less fertile in picturesque incidents since the enclosure of the land
with wire fences, and the management
of the herds much simpler and
enables the estancia to dispense
with the guard of mounted "gauchos"
who are now to be seen only in the vicinity of the station.

On the 18th inst. the train was
however, anticipated the movement and
came up to the station to stop the
progress of the revolutionists; these,
though partly surprised, soon rallied and
attacked the vanguard with such fury
that they carried everything before them
and cut through the ranks of the
insurrectionists. The explanation of this phenomenon is, the officials informed
him—"that anything loose, the public
would steal." Mr. Child, dipping into
his well-stocked notes of travel, con-
sules you with the fact that there is
some difficulty in Chile and on the line
from Athens to the Piræus. It is not
that the "gauchos" only represents human
imperfectibility. Till the world is Teu-
to and a "gaucha" with English basis
is universal, the human animal will continue to "celebrate" blunders and loose
articles. Mr. Child is naturally impressed with the vastness of Argentine
territory and gives us its length and breadth and superficial area in square
miles. Like everyone else, he is bored
with railway travelling in a country
where "the gray sun-burnt plain shows
the bare bones of the earth, and the
low dunes of yellow earth stretch in
all directions as far as the eye can
reach. Hour after hour through blinding
dust and rain clouds, the train goes on
and on, and on as well known—the
vultures, the terrores, the inevitable
and still more inevitable carriage,
just as they were and are likely to
be again for another century, have
scarcely varied by "groups of box-
like huts of burnt brick scattered over
the ground and in the vicinity of some
human beings telling." This new feature of the Argentine landscape is
Mr. Child's opinion on his way to the great Casey station with its stud farm,
and with a feeling of relief to the monotony
of the landscape he takes a greedy look at the buildings of the station. The train is full of passengers, and the Napoli and arrives at Bahia Blanca—
"a desolate and lonely place." He does not see the mud banks and the crabs.
"As for the estancia, towns villages
and the life of the country, we have
seen one you have seen all, and all are equally uninteresting. The life has become less fertile in picturesque incidents since the enclosure of the land
with wire fences, and the management
of the herds much simpler and
enables the estancia to dispense
with the guard of mounted "gauchos"
who are now to be seen only in the vicinity of the station.

On the 18th inst. the train was
however, anticipated the movement and
came up to the station to stop the
progress of the revolutionists; these,
though partly surprised, soon rallied and
attacked the vanguard with such fury
that they carried everything before them
and cut through the ranks of the
insurrectionists. The explanation of this phenomenon is, the officials informed
him—"that anything loose, the public
would steal." Mr. Child, dipping into
his well-stocked notes of travel, con-
sules you with the fact that there is
some difficulty in Chile and on the line
from Athens to the Piræus. It is not
that the "gauchos" only represents human
imperfectibility. Till the world is Teu-
to and a "gaucha" with English basis
is universal, the human animal will continue to "celebrate" blunders and loose
articles. Mr. Child is naturally impressed with the vastness of Argentine
territory and gives us its length and breadth and superficial area in square
miles. Like everyone else, he is bored
with railway travelling in a country
where "the gray sun-burnt plain shows
the bare bones of the earth, and the
low dunes of yellow earth stretch in
all directions as far as the eye can
reach. Hour after hour through blinding
dust and rain clouds, the train goes on
and on, and on as well known—the
vultures, the terrores, the inevitable
and still more inevitable carriage,
just as they were and are likely to
be again for another century, have
scarcely varied by "groups of box-
like huts of burnt brick scattered over
the ground and in the vicinity of some
human beings telling." This new feature of the Argentine landscape is
Mr. Child's opinion on his way to the great Casey station with its stud farm,
and with a feeling of relief to the monotony
of the landscape he takes a greedy look at the buildings of the station. The train is full of passengers, and the Napoli and arrives at Bahia Blanca—
"a desolate and lonely place." He does not see the mud banks and the crabs.
"As for the estancia, towns villages
and the life of the country, we have
seen one you have seen all, and all are equally uninteresting. The life has become less fertile in picturesque incidents since the enclosure of the land
with wire fences, and the management
of the herds much simpler and
enables the estancia to dispense
with the guard of mounted "gauchos"
who are now to be seen only in the vicinity of the station.

On the 18th inst. the train was
however, anticipated the movement and
came up to the station to stop the
progress of the revolutionists; these,
though partly surprised, soon rallied and
attacked the vanguard with such fury
that they carried everything before them
and cut through the ranks of the
insurrectionists. The explanation of this phenomenon is, the officials informed
him—"that anything loose, the public
would steal." Mr. Child, dipping into
his well-stocked notes of travel, con-
sules you with the fact that there is
some difficulty in Chile and on the line
from Athens to the Piræus. It is not
that the "gauchos" only represents human
imperfectibility. Till the world is Teu-
to and a "gaucha" with English basis
is universal, the human animal will continue to "celebrate" blunders and loose
articles. Mr. Child is naturally impressed with the vastness of Argentine
territory and gives us its length and breadth and superficial area in square
miles. Like everyone else, he is bored
with railway travelling in a country
where "the gray sun-burnt plain shows
the bare bones of the earth, and the
low dunes of yellow earth stretch in
all directions as far as the eye can
reach. Hour after hour through blinding
dust and rain clouds, the train goes on
and on, and on as well known—the vultures, the terrores

